

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A hose material for a fuel cell system which is superior in both the properties of low extraction and electrical isolation, and also has excellent mechanical properties. The hose material comprises an ethylene-propylene copolymer and carbon black having a toluene discoloration of 30% to 50%.